

Hello there my dear!
I'm so pleased it's your birthday!
Aren't you? It's such an exciting day!! In fact, I was so excited when I realized it was coming up that I wrote you this little poem to celebrate...

Today I woke up full of joy,
Because of you, the birthday boy!
I waved my wand and sent some laughter
And a happy ever after,
And a heap of great success
In all you do, for I confess,
It is my dearest wish that life
For you is free from strife,
And that golden blessings fall
Upon you and your loved ones all.

I hope you enjoyed that my dear. I suppose it's a bit sentimental but I think sometimes that's nice, don't you? I wish you a wonderful birthday... I'm so impressed to see what a strong, brave, kind young man you're growing into. Well done.

Lots of love,
The Birthday Fairy x
