

Goodness me, my dear!  Your very last tooth. I never  thought this day would come, did you? Well, of course I knew it would come really, but it always seemed so far away...  and now suddenly,  here we are.

I'm a pretty talkative fairy but do you know what? Tonight I'm lost for words. You've been so thoughtful over the years, leaving me your teeth, and I've felt so lucky to have them. Part of me wants to wake you up right now and thank you - but that's against the rules. So I must be content with this note. It will be the last one I write to you but while that may seem sad, it isn't really, for I will keep my  fairy eye on you from a distance and I know that you are going to be a wonderful young man who brings happiness wherever he goes.

It's almost time for me to fly away. I shall treasure your tooth and think about you as I carry it home. It's a lovely night out there, a little chilly once you get above the clouds but very beautiful. I wish I could take you up there with  me - but that's  against the rules too! What I will do, before I go, is sprinkle a little fairy magic upon you. It doesn't matter whether you believe in it or not my dear, it will still bring you sweet dreams. Also, every magical creature who ever looks at you will be able to see that you have a kind heart and were once  the friend of the Tooth Fairy.

Goodnight then...  sleep well, grow well, live well and never forget how special you are.

Love,

The  Tooth Fairy  X
