

Well now my dear, What a special night! Here I am, having flown all the way from Fairyland, collecting your very first tooth. Thank you for deciding to give it to me - I'm ever so grateful. I'm very pleased to find you fast asleep too, because I'm not allowed to collect teeth from children who are awake. It's part of fairy law! You look like such a nice person my dear - I hope you're dreaming about something lovely. I must fly away now but I shall be back as soon as you lose another tooth. Until then lots of love,
