

Follow the clues
For treasures galore!
Swim that way
dear mermaids,
The first's
on a door.

Hark to me, merfolk,
Crustaceans and fish!
The next clue
is hiding
Inside
a dish.

Well done, now another....
If you're in a rush
I'll tell you
a secret:
It's near a hairbrush.

The next place is strange
It's a manmade
machine
And the clue is not far From its sparkly
bright screen.

Nice work, lovely creatures,
But now understand:
A grown-up
is hiding
A clue in their hand!!!

Now you must swim
To and fro,
here and there,
To find a clue
waiting
Under a chair.

The hunt's nearly over,
You've swum
many knots,
Now look in a room Full of
saucepans
and pots!

Hooray little
merfolk,
Here is your prize.
You are not only pretty
But clever
and wise!
