

Oh dear! I've just realised that I forgot to pick up your tooth! I'm sorry about that. I've been so busy lately that it completely slipped my mind. On the other hand, I certainly haven't forgotten how good you've been at looking after all your teeth, and I'm very proud of you.

I will come and collect the tooth I forgot as soon as I can - I can't wait to have it! Who knows, I might even be able to pick it up before dawn. I am sitting on a cloud a long, long way from your house as I write, but with a little fairy magic I can travel almost as quickly as a shooting star! If your tooth has gone by the time you read this, you'll know I've got it safely - and if it hasn't don't worry, I'll come a different night instead.

Don't forget to keep brushing, will you?

Lots of love,

The Tooth Fairy
