

Hello my dear, I hear you've been asking what my name is. Well, I do have quite a lot of names because I fly all over the world and my name is often different in different languages. However, there is one special one which is my favourite. If you like, you can call me that. I won't write it down, because it's a secret, but instead I'll use a bit of magic and tell you while you sleep. All you have to do to find out is count to ten, turn around three times and say the first name that comes into your head. (Don't mumble it mind, say it as loudly and clearly as you can!) And that will be the name I whispered into your dreams. I don't tell it to everyone you know, but you are very special.

Thank you for leaving me your teeth and don't forget to keep brushing!

Lots of love,
The Tooth Fairy x
