

Hello again my dear!

Here I am, back to collect your diapers, just like I promised. And my, what a wonderful job you did! Well done. I'm so proud of you, I could burst into a million stars!!

Thank you very much for giving me your diapers! As soon as I leave here, I will fly straight to some babies who need them. They'll be so pleased.

I've left you another little gift because you've been so brilliant. I hope you like it.

I will also be telling all my magical fairy friends how good you are, so that when they fly by your house at night, they will blow you kisses on the wind. (Fairy kisses bring you luck, you know!)

I'd better be on my way but keep up the good work and carry on making me proud, won't you?

Lots of love,

The

Diaper Fairy x
