

Hello there my dear!

Well, it's getting closer to Christmas isn't it? And I thought I'd scribble you this quick note to remind you to be good. You will make a special effort for me, won't you? My elves say your behaviour is fantastic when you try. They all send their love to you and they're looking forward to helping me choose some great gifts for you.

Anyway, I must dash away now and feed my reindeer. They'll be getting hungry you know, and I've got to keep their strength up ready for that round the world journey on Christmas Eve!

Lots of love,

Santa Claus x
