Greetings young human!

I don't write many letters, as it's hard holding a pen when you've got hooves, but the reindeer food you left out was soooooo delicious that I just had to say thank you.

It's tough work galloping all around the world on Christmas Eve, and your food came at exactly the right time to give us a bit of extra energy. How thoughtful you are! We don't get half as many snacks as the boss you know, and we're all very touched that you remebered us. You're a bit of alright for a human.

Have yourself a very merry Christmas and we'll be back next year!

Love,
Rudolph and the reindeer
